

War disabled nationals in the Denden camp celebrated 19th Independence Anniversary together with Eritrean mothers who returned to their country from Saudi Arabia. Asmara, 15 May 2010- War disabled nationals in the Denden camp celebrated 19th Independence Anniversary together with Eritrean mothers who returned to their country from Saudi Arabia.

Pointing out that Eritrean mothers had played a crucial role in the struggle for independence, the war disabled patriots said that their contribution to the nation building process is also a demonstration of their commitment.

Government officials including the Minister of Labor and Human Welfare, Ms. Selma Hassen and other invited guests participated in the occasion where a number of activities that highlighted the importance of the day were presented.